Catering Arrangements

The fully-catered residences (Weerona and International House) offer 19 meals per week served in a common Dining Room. The cost of this food service is included in the weekly rental fees.

The weekly rental fee at the flexi-catered residence (Campus East) does not include the cost of food. Residents add cash to a pre-paid debit card and use this card to pay for their meals on consumption. A wider range of food options is offered and an on-site café is open through the day. It is envisaged that residents requiring 19 meals per week would spend an average of $75-95 per week depending on their meal choices.

At self-catered residences, residents prepare and cook all their meals in their studio, unit or shared kitchen.
